Occupancy tax

When staying in our village, you are required to pay an occupancy tax. Your accommodations will ask you to pay this tax in addition to the cost of your stay, and then transfer it to the municipality. This tax allows the town to finance and improve all tourism-related infrastructure and equipment. The rate is calculated per day and person (18 years old and older). Free for minors.

- Seminars -

Is there a more beautiful place to bring your colleagues for an incentive or team-building trip?

Pralognan offers a wide variety of lodging options for every budget within a short distance of the village center in order to encourage non-motorized transportation and offer a wide range of activities for this type of meeting (snowshoe-zip line outing, biathlon, dog sledding, skijoring...).

Professionals at the resort (ESF ski instructors and the guide service) are accustomed to and recognized for their ability to orchestrate fun team building activities.

Another plus, a full offering of spacious meeting rooms for seminars either at your accommodations or in the ice rink building (which also allows you to organize activities on or off the ice) or run by the municipality.

Spring skiing

Why put your skis away when the long sunny days of spring arrive?

Thanks to just the right aspect and copious amounts of snow, Pralognan is an ideal location for spring skiing, whether alpine or cross-country skiing, or even backcountry skiing.

A veritable Mecca for backcountry skiers, Pralognan offers incredibly beautiful routes for all enthusiasts at this time of year, enhanced by the possibility of spending the night in one of the four staffed mountain huts.

Total immersion in the heart of this beautiful and well-preserved all-natural environment can be organized and guided by a professional from the local Guide Service through all-inclusive packages.

So many reasons to (re)discover legendary places like Col de la Grande Casse Pass, the highest summit in the area, as well as so many others.

Winter outings, by their nature, depend on the snow conditions and weather.

Contact a professional for more information before starting your trip.

Col de la Vanoise

CAF high-mountain hut located 4.5hrs from the village or 2.5hrs from the top of the Genepi chairlift.
Located at the foot of the Grande Casse and the Rechasse glacier.
This historic mountain hut was completely renovated in 2014.

Hut open and staffed from the beginning of March to mid-May.
Nightly rate (summer 2017): 25.55 €.
